Sparking Personality

Personality The unique psychological qualities of an individual that influence a variety of characteristic behaviour patterns (both overt and covert) across different situations and over time.

American Psychological

Association

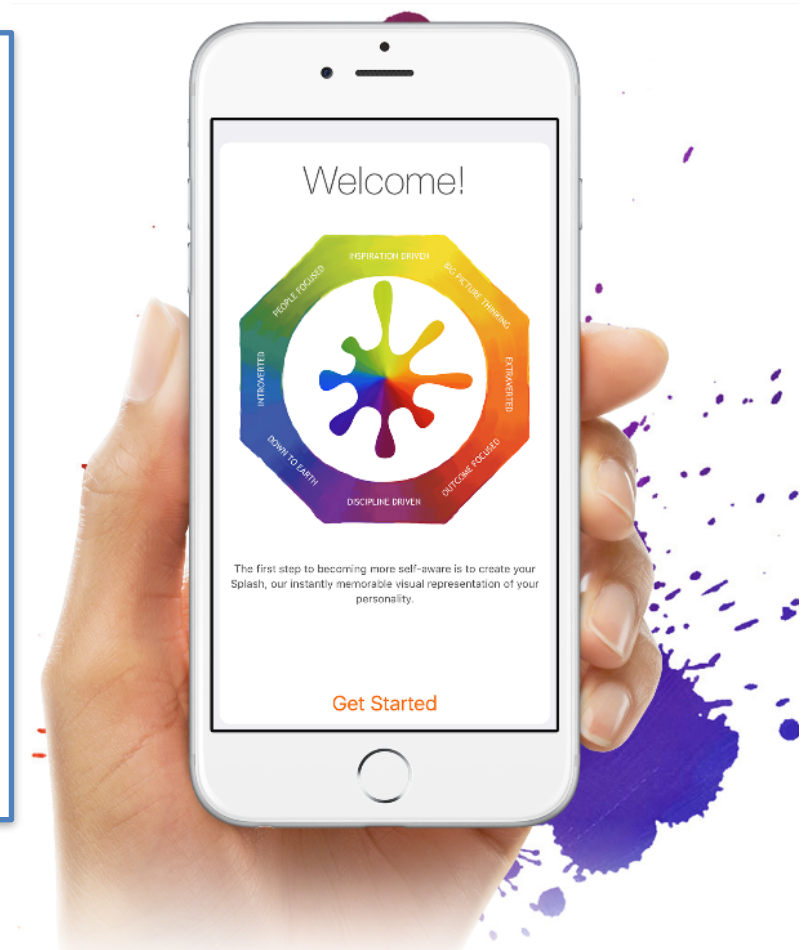

Traits – stable and lasting patterns of preference. Lumina Spark is a trait based tool that looks at your preferences. Instead of the word trait, we use Qualities, Aspects and Colours.

Lumina Spark – takes a dynamic approach to personality by looking at what you like (Underlying Persona), what you tend to do (Everyday Persona) and what you might do too much (Overextended Persona). In the beginning of the portrait, the data presented is an average across the three Personas.

A Dynamic Model of Personality: the Three Personas – for Participants with a Lumina Spark Full Portrait Completed underlying

BEING

- Authentic Self
- Who you are when you are most comfortable and not conscious of how you are interacting
- Private self
- You may be alone or with people that you consider part of your inner circle
- Not everyone will know this part of you
- Sometimes you may forget this self!

EVERYDAY

DOING

- Public self
- The qualities that you make a conscious effort to use
- The “you that you approve of”
- How you feel or think you should be in society
- What you choose to do with your energy when you are aware of others being around

Overextended

OVERDOING

- Stressed self
- Who you are under pressure
- Where you put your energy when you are stressed either physically, mentally or emotionally
- May be caused by extended periods of stress
- Qualities that you may not have previously seen may emerge
